

Unlikely Gifts Unwrapped: Unfiltered Reflections on Life After Breast Cancer

by Diane M. Simard

Description: Unlikely Gifts Unwrapped is the long-anticipated sequel to The Unlikely Gift of Breast Cancer that provides an unapologetic dive into the aftereffects of Diane's experience with Stage IIIc breast cancer, including the struggles she encountered as she attempted to rebuild her identity. Diane's quest to find herself again and redefine her life after cancer is filled with intense grace, humor, resilience, wisdom, and a powerful zeal to embrace a purpose-driven existence.

Release Date: March 18, 2025

Genre: Humor

Formats: Paperback and ebook

Available: DianeMSimard.com, Amazon, and most major international book retailers

About the Author

Recognized as one of the 100 inaugural "National Women in Business to Watch" by Bizwomen.com, Diane M. Simard is a former business communications executive and angel investor who is now a life commentator, strategy advisor, public speaker, and award-winning author of three books.

A ten-year survivor of Stage IIIc breast cancer, Diane advocates to expand access to resources for those impacted by the psychological trauma of cancer. She founded the Center for Oncology Psychology Excellence (COPE) at the University of Denver.

Contact

✉ diane@dianemsimard.com

🌐 www.dianemsimard.com

☎ 303.817.7676

📌 in/diane-moravec-simard/

